

Gowan, Your Stone Walls

Some people that you lead a terrible rough life
And that you keep to yourself to survive many cold nights
And I'll be sorry one day if I don't keep my distance
A fool to believe that I'd make a difference
Well, maybe I can't deny - there's a bitterness in your eyes but I thought I would say, I'm afraid I must disagree
I see your hard heart crumbling
Your stone walls want to tumble in
When you're looking at me

And I'll be making you see another possible future
Do I make you believe we got something to shoot for?
Baby you know the whole world could change in a minute -
If you wanted that tonight I'm your ticket
It's getting me kinda high, something's powerful in these eyes
Oh, in mysterious ways that controlling your destiny

I see your hard heart crumbling (heart crumbling)
Your stone walls want to tumble in
When you're looking at me

Yeah, yeah, and you know - I could change your life right here
Something in your face says you want me to try
And I've seen all that I have ever needed
In your melting eyes
No they could never lie

Yeah, your hard heart is crumbling
Your stone walls want to tumble in
When you're looking at me
And I like what I see -

Come on: bring them on me
Let them fall on me
Let them down me
Just let them fall on me
See your hard heart -
Stone walls tumbling
I like what I see
