

Graham Coxon, Are Your Ready

Are you trying to retrieve
All of what you once believed
Are you ready to let go
Are you ready to be free

Are you ready to be lone

Are you shopping for high heels
In a dress that shows your knees
Have you painted up your lips
Are you getting what you need

Are you happy on your own
Are you really happy in his shaky arms

Happiness is only fleeting
Love is no more than a lie
If hearts are only good for cheating
Life is nothing

Are you pacing through the streets
Til you cannot feel your feet
When the people look at you
Can they see right the way through

Are you thinking that they know
Were you ever happy in his shaky arms
