

Grand Theft Audio, Death To The Infidels

I've been around the world
And I seem to find everything I'm looking for in uncertainty
Roll the dice take a chance, take a joyride
One for fun, six for kicks
It's a revelation

DEATH TO THE INFIDELS

The future been and gone
Leave the past behind, everything your living for is uncertain
Say you're fine; crack a smile, say your uptight
One for fun, six for kicks
It's a revelation

DEATH TO THE INFIDELS

So don't blame us for lack of inspiration
When the whole world's run by a TV station
It's a pre packed like, numbered and bar coded
We're looking down the barrel as we get down loaded

This is going out like a dedication
We're the microchip kings of a cardboard nation
Then brakes are going down as we shift into top gear
Leave a sign on the planet saying nothing to hear
