

Granian, Fill It

I have been sitting all this time
Relaxing in my armchair
With nothing to believe
I can't say for sure that it was ever even there
Find my head is in my hands
I know you see me but you just don't care
Yet I'm walking, awaiting, I look for someone to Blame is in your hands only you know where You've been
Still I know when I can find mine
I can't find mine lost it, I am
Knowing when I must leave

Down, turn around
Take my cup and fill it
I filled it up before don't you believe me
There on the ground
Take my eyes to see it fading

Wait for something to go wrong
But will you wait for me even though you know you're Strong enough to know when
I can find mine
I can't find mine lost in, between the fine lines
Knowing when I must leave

Down, turn around
Take my cup and fill it
I filled it up before don't you believe me
There on the ground
Take my eyes to see it fading

I can hear you calling
See your face I'm falling
I can see you fading
Hold your fears in
Wait until I'm gone
Sucked the life right out of me

Down, turn around
Take my cup and fill it
I filled it up before don't you believe me
There on the ground
Take my eyes to see it
There on the ground
Take my eyes to see it fading
I can see you fading
