

Grant Lee Buffalo, Mockingbirds

devastation at last, finally we meet after all these years out here in the street
I had a feeling you would make yourself known You came along just to claim your place on the throne
Now I been overthrown, overthrown

Chorus

And I thought if I tow the right lines but these mockingbirds won't let me shine devastation, my door was left open wide you brought me into your heart and you swallowed my pride

I had a feelin' you were hidin' your thoughts
I made a note to myself, I nearly forgot Now I'm overwrought, I'm overwrought

Chorus (2X)

One day this ground will break and open up for me I hope it will, I hope it will

Salutations at last, I'm down on my knees I heard the bugle this morning blast Reveille woke from a dream where I was in a terrible realm All my sails were ablaze and I was chained to the helm
Now I'm overwhelmed, overwhelmed

Chorus (4x)
