

Gravity Kills, One Thing

Are you wishing
Upon a star that's falling
Hearts are ringing
Now I'm the one
That you left standing here

You'll never see the little things
You'll never change me

Give me just one thing
Something to cling to
Something for me to make it
Give me just one thing
Something to cling to
Something to pray to
Give me just one thing

Lay before me
And everything you've given
Same old story
There's not one thing
That opens up my eyes

You'll never see the little things
You'll never change me

Give me just one thing
Something to cling to
Something for me to make it
Give me just one thing
Something to cling to
Something to pray to
Give me just one thing

Are you wishing
It's only you they're wanting
Right behind me
They all will dance
While I twist in the wind

You'll never see the little things
You'll never change me

Give me just one thing
Something to cling to
Something for me to make it
Give me just one thing
Something to cling to
Something to pray to
Give me just one thing

Now I can't see
There'll never be
It rips right through me

You'll never see the little things

Give me just one thing

Give me just one thing

Give me just one thing
Something to pray to
