

Greenwheel, Identity

No one can hear all that's been said
You're feeding me useless lines of nothingness
Let me run away
Don't keep me here
I can't stay around and take this fear
Is everything I want to be a disgrace to my identity
I don't mind
Just give me my indifference, stop questioning my reason
I don't mind
Uncomfortably clear
All is the same now
I'm adapting to this
No I'm not afraid now
Let me run away
You can't keep me here
I won't stay around and take this fear
