

Grinspoon, Make It Happen

I used to have you pinned
You used to work at d.js
Does it make you slimmer
Now you've got credit these days
Maybe I'm wrong it doesn't make it right
Maybe I'm dumb can you hold up the light
Can't seem to breath its getting cold inside
You sold it all inside a satellite
But if this soul runs out of fight can you guess what happens?
Cause your the only one in sight that could've made it happen
Whatever gets you through the night can you make it happen
Can you make it happen?
And pick those points to pleat
Adds up to dissapointment
Because you're fucking shit
Has got a case to answer
You maybe right but I was told your wrong
Nothing was sharpened but the stolen one
I never knew that you could only hold
Everthings dark inside this room alone
But if this soul runs out of fight can you guess what happens?
Cause your the only one in sight that couldve made it happen
Whatever gets you through the night can you make it happen
Can you make it happen?
Just cause you were never right
You sold your soul for a satellite
And all the friends that you used to love
Have gone around tellin what youve done
I used to have you pinned
You used to work at d.js
Does it make you slimmer
Now you've got credit these days
You maybe wrong but is it worth fight?
I maybe dumb can you turn on the light
Did you know your soul was in that satellite
But if this soul runs out of fight can you guess what happens?
Cause your the only one in sight that could've made it happen
Whatever gets you through the night can you make it happen
Can you make it happen?
