Gunna, Idk Nomore

I don't know no more, I don't know no more
I can't put my finger on it, I don't know the code
They was never used to money, they don't know how to ball
They lookin' for me, they don't know I'm buildin' a wall
Duckin' the law, I ain't trustin' no one at all
I know that when you shine they wish some days will be dark
And I know there be a time you really show who you are
We burned the bridge and cut the ties and we forever apart

I'm done with all these foes on my soul, just forget 'em
Took months without no syrup, ain't no more codeine in my liver
Why men actin' like girls, talkin' to niggas like they sisters?
And if you wanna roll you can go on the road with 'em
Lookin' through that peephole, better hope it ain't a hitter
I could do it on my own, don't wanna fuck with niggas
Had a big brother that loved me, a stone cold killer
If it's family, that mean the love is never ever endin'

I don't know no more, I don't know no more
I can't put my finger on it, I don't know the code
They was never used to money, they don't know how to ball
They lookin' for me, they don't know I'm buildin' a wall
Duckin' the law, I ain't trustin' no one at all
I know that when you shine they wish some days will be dark (I know that when you shine)
And I know there be a time you really show who you are
We burned the bridge and cut the ties and we forever apart

Niggas ain't just mad, there just really somethin' else to it
It's always been your plan, you just ain't have no way to do it
'Member we was cool? I gave you shit when I didn't use it
Lemme get that money back, I hope you ain't ran through it
Wanna know how Wunna feel? Then listen to my music
Talk about that shit and all that knowin' I was clueless
Real life on the surface, shit, it feel like a movie
I feel I just don't know no more, what all else'll do me?

I don't know no more, I don't know no more
I can't put my finger on it, I don't know the code
They was never used to money, they don't know how to ball
They lookin' for me, they don't know I'm buildin' a wall
Duckin' the law, I ain't trustin' no one at all
I know that when you shine they wish some days will be dark (I know that when you shine)
And I know there be a time you really show who you are
We burned the bridge and cut the ties and we forever apart

We burned the bridge and cut the ties and forever apart
And I know there be a time you really show who you are
They was never used to money, they don't know how to ball
They lookin' for me, they don't know I'm buildin' a wall
