Gus G., Generation G (feat. Jeff Scott Soto)

Pride and empathy It's a battle to survive But now it's crumbling ayay Is there nothing left in this fight?

We are freedom, we are united But you killed our dreams and left us divided Thousands leaving, for new salvation Those left bleeding, you are the Generation G!

Tried and crucified For holding to belief The never-ending war ahead Is just a life of anarchy

We are freedom, we are united But you killed our dreams and left us divided Thousands leaving, for new salvation Those left bleeding, you are the Generation G!

Where are we going to When will we know We've all been played like we're all part of the show
