

Gus Gus (GusGus), Bambi

i feel light while the bubbles fly through the park up to the park to the sky dead quiet we are sinking into each other we exceed our headroom no need for acting clever because today we will spend together all this day we will spend together bambi fly today is living we are able to continue because the world it is still breathing it is good to be here with you i am here you are here and today today is forever my heart is where your mind is when day leaves leaves us high and quiet inspired by each other bambi fly today is living we are able to continue because the world it is still breathing it is good to be here with you i am here and you are here and today today is forever.