Guster, Window

A gaping wound tells the story of it all A man lost only to find What was left of his mind? With no hope of a scar at all You say, Go slow But somethings right behind me I can run away for only so long It will not stop I will come down Oh no Let me find my way III take you to the edge Go across that window And III carry you there Oh when nothing goes right Oh when days dont come tonight Oh when all I see is the error of my own enemy A man alone and cut and torn for it His whole life friend after friend Theyre all a flash in the pan With no hope of rejoice at all Let me find my way (Dont be scared of what you might be thinking) Ill take you to the edge Go across that window And III carry you....
