

H-Blockx, Saw Her Smiling

I saw her smiling in her own way
I saw her smiling and then I walked away
Now the smile that she once had, it's gone away
I miss her smile and in a certain way
I feel like dying, now that she's away
And now if we could only touch we would be okay

It's her smile that I can't get out of my head
God I'm losing my control, god I'm losing my control
So many times I tried another smile instead
It would never be the same

I saw her smiling

I saw her crying and then I said
There's no denying, you're in my head
And when finally we touched we would be okay
I saw her smiling her own way
She's on my mind and she made me stay
Now that finally we touched everything's okay

It's her smile that I can't get out of my head
God I'm losing my control, god I'm losing my control
So many times I tried another smile instead
It would never be the same

I saw her smiling
I saw her smiling
I saw her smiling
She's in my head
I saw her smiling
I saw her smiling
I saw her smiling
Everything's okay, yeah
