

H.I.M., Endless Dark

Endless Dark

Softly the light shines in through gates of grace on me and you deceiving our restless hearts A flickering Flame so Serene Devours the Night so we could see The Fear we hold on to so strong

But I know where I belong Away from your Gods
that heal all wounds and light this endless dark
endless dark
this endless dark

Lonely the light shines on you through the gates of fire entombed Feeding on your Love weak is the blaze that kept me away from cruelty and tenderness embraced saving my soul no more and I know where I belong away from your Gods

that heal all wounds and light
this endless dark
endless dark
this endless dark

I know where I belong away from you Gods
that heal all wounds and light,
this endless dark

That shine on you and tame your burning Heart that buried my truth right into your arms That worship the Tomb of our forlorn Love that heal all wounds and light , this endless dark
that heal all wounds and light , this endless dark
that heal all wounds and light , this endless dark
