Hail The Villain, Mission Control

Count down the days until the end of the world
We sleep, but the sky is falling
Bombs burst in air, they tear up the inside
Make no mistake, they dont care they
Take my heart right from this chest
Take all and kill the rest
Take my hear right from this chest
Take all
Build them up to blow them off
Build them up to blow them off
Line us up to take the fall
Blind enough to kill us all
Far from the blast we hear the engines subside
Cant sleep cause the earth is burning
Push past the edge we pledge only to die
Cross off the loss, they dont care they
