Halo, Cracked

Cracks inside following close Still I never could live Without protection

Cracks so clear Hoping it brings you near Turn me to dust Your sweet complexion

Crawl for now Things will be clear somehow Everything turns so fast It's broken

You can change anything You can fix everything You can breathe I'm choking

That's someone else
I wish I was now
Confide in me
These words that somehow
Shake your breathing
Soak through us all
And it's taking me over
And it brings me to you

Crawl for now Things will be clear somehow Everything turns so fast It's broken

You can change anything You can fix everything You can breathe I'm choking

That's someone else I wish I was now Confide in me These words that somehow Shake your breathing Soak through us all And it's taking me over

And it's taking me over

And it brings me to you

Cracks inside following close Still I never could live Without protection
