

Hammerfall, Carved In Stone

There's silence, in the dark
There's the fire, ready to start
Stone pages, inked by fury
The exception of the damned

They are calling, out my name
Come join us and carry the flame
Our precious time, is standing still
When the future meets the past

No freedom, no glory
There's no future, no past

This will be our one last wish, one last dream
When you follow the masses, or follow your own
One last chance, one last dream
Before your future will be, Carved In Stone

I remember, what they said
I still hear them, inside me head
The legions of damnation
They keep calling out my name

The wind blows, forever
But the time standing still

This will be our one last wish, one last dream
When you follow the masses, or follow your own
One last chance, one last dream
Before your future will be, Carved In Stone

Knock, knock on my door
Please revoke what you're asking for

One last wish, one last dream
When you follow the masses, or follow your own
One last chance, one last dream
Before your future will be...

One last wish, one last dream (Carved In Stone)
When you follow the masses, or follow your own
One last chance, one last dream (Carved In Stone)
Before your future will be, Carved In Stone
