The dragon awakes the guardian waiting around Once touched by fire
The flame kissed this dangerous ground

Cause by lust the creature slaughtered human race Once defended to become a state of grace

In the dark ages when mankind Gave birth to the beast The demons and wizards united rejected priest

All invoked the power of king Lucifer To infuse the power from the crucifer

We are the Crusaders

Allied as one, known as Stormbreakers

The brave to fight back
To bring the evil down
The best way was sold attack

To avoid repeating history once more We must slay the dragon burn his guts and gore
