

Hammerfall, The Fallen One

I saw your face in the morning sun
Oh, I thought you were there
I heard your voice as the wind passed me by
Silently, whispering my name

So many things that I wanted to say
Forever left untold
I still remember the tears that you shed
Over someone else

Our love could never die
All I can do is cry
Save a little prayer for the fallen one

There is a light down at memory lane
Slowly fading away
Still holding on to the dreams torn apart
I will follow my heart

Our love could never die
All I can do is cry
Save a little prayer for the fallen one

Still on my own, chasing the sun
Of a time long ago
The shade in my heart, tearing apart
Everything that I long for

Still on my own, chasing the sun
Of a time long ago
The shade in my heart, tearing apart
Everything that I long for

"Guitar Interlude"

I saw your face in the morning sun
Oh, I thought you were there
I heard your voice as the wind passed me by
Mhispering my name

Our love could never die
All I can do is cry
Save a little prayer for the fallen one
Oooh yeah.
