

Hammerfall, Titan

The gate is closed, the sky is burning
Dark clouds are closing in
A world at war, no revelation could help predict a mankind fall
Somewhere above, the unpolluted skies, we'll be resurrected
What have we done? We paid the highest price
No shelter for the undeserving masses

Standing in line for a final journey
Into space and beyond
A final sigh, a breath of hope we gather, heed the eternal call
Counting the stars, we pull the shortest straw, life is fading rapidly
Nothing remains, a withered devil's claw
Soul survivors picking up the pieces

Titan
Even the dark has a silver lining
Titan
Shining bright so far beyond the sun

So this is a new beginning
So far away, so far away

We leave the past behind us
No turning back, no turning back

Titan
Even the dark has a silver lining
Titan, Titan
Shining bright so far beyond the sun
Titan
Even the dark has a silver lining
Titan, Titan
Shining bright so far beyond the sun

We will fly
We're flying into space
Fly, fly away
We're flying into space