

Hank Locklin, No One Is Sweeter Than You

Just a little bit of loving and you would have my heart
Just a little kiss to prove you love me true
Oh how I'd like to take you and hold you in my arms
Darling no one is sweeter than you
A million ways I've searched my heart but you're the one I'd find
And just the thought of loving you grows sweeter all the time
If I should ever lose you my heart would break in two
Darling no one is sweeter than you
