

Hank Snow, I Just Want You To Know

I want you to know if things should go wrong
As you walk through your world if you're walking along
Give me your burden I'll carry your load
Remember I love you I just want you to know

Whatever you do or whatever they say
There's someone believing in you all the way
Anytime you feel lonely or need someone to hold
Remember I love you I just want you to know

I want you know when we're far apart
When I cannot steal to you heart to heart
If warm lips should whisper sweet words that aren't so
Remember I love you I just want you to know
Remember I love you I just want you to know
