

Hank Snow, Once More You're Mine Again

I've got to make myself let go off you somehow
Stop hanging on to memories that's over now
But if I do what would I have in my world I pretend
Cause to this world I go each night once more you're mine again

[piano]

Once more you're mine again you hold me close to you
And when I see you leave my world again I'm blue
I feel the teardrops on my face the hurt starts movin' in
Tonight I'll go back to my world once more you're mine again
Tonight I'll go back to my world once more you're mine again
