

Hank Thompson, Rock In The Ocean

A rock down deep in the ocean means more than my heart means to you
I don't know what changed your notion what makes you do things like you do
You told me that there was no other but those words have proven untrue
There's no use to help me further I'm lost like a cloud in the blue [fiddle - steel - guitar]
Like a wave that rise on the seashore for something that never can reach
My heart to you doesn't mean more than a small grain of sand on the beach
Like you toss a rock in the ocean to be lost like the words of my plea
That's how you discarded devotion just like a stone in the sea
