

Hank Williams Jr., Funny Feelings

Funny feelings how they thrill me funny feelings how they chill me
There's something I used to joke about now there's something I can't live without
And I think I'm falling in love with you
It used to be a game with me but now it's plain to see
It's not child's play it's gonna get you someday
Those funny feelings tear me apart and now they're reachin' into my heart
And I think I'm falling in love with you

[steel]

Funny feelings seems I'm needing your love all the time can't get you off my mind
The way you kiss the look in your eye sends me straight in paradise
And I think I'm falling in love with you
Funny feelings they're so healing if you have a broken heart one has been torn apart
Funny feelings got me in a whirl and I know that you're the girl
I've gone and fell in love with you
Someday those funny feelings they're gonna get you too
