

Hanoi Rocks, Designs On You

Goodbye
So now you're leaving
I hope you're feeling
Real good about it
And will not doubt it
When you're without me
And the pain hits back
No more
No more new music
No more tapes I'll make
To help share this lonely heartache
If that's you want
It's only you I want
As it's only human
If your mind should change
You find out about your friends
When you're out on the leap
It's hard to socialize when of you is all they speak
Can't find no place to hide
When trying to be discreet
With my designs on you
So wrong... But
It just feels so right
When we hold tight
Everything is alright
And this with all my might
I try believing
If that's deceiving
Then I'd rather lie
You could go surfing on the tears that I have cried
No matter how I try I can't say the last goodbye
The love in my heart can't deny
To hide my designs on you
No harm
I meant for no one
And I don't owe one
To myself or no one
I'm on my own now
You might be alone now
Well, I'm still here with
Designs On You
