

Hanoi Rocks, Fallen Star

I've been drinkin' quite a lot lately
Been thinkin' of the times when you made a star Times do change and we must rearrange our lives with it I'd like to send you a postcard but still don't know your address, don't remember your name
It's funny how your face is still in my eyes...
Hidden by a tear
I do believe in that one day you'll rise again
I'll always keep on believing
It gives me strength to carry on Without love through dark nites...
A million miles away
