

Hanoi Rocks, Ice Cream Summer

Rosalita, now our summer's gone and you've left me all alone...

You know I never expected, no I never suspected that

You came to me to steal my love away

You said I've always been a dreamer

'Cos dreaming is all I've ever done

Just like our summer - I thought it would last forever

But as the autumn came, you had gone away

All the promises you broke meant more to me than gold

Now I'm all alone in the heartbreak zone

And the winter will be cold without you

You said I was a born loser

'Cos losing is all I've ever done

Like when I lost you, it proved that all you said was true

And now without you I feel like being used

All the promises you broke meant more to me than gold

And now I'm all alone in the heartbreak zone

And the winter will be cold without you, my Rosalita

All there is left is a photograph

You smile and the ice cream's meltin' down your pants

And I keep living on, you're in the past, it's been so long -

Since the Ice Cream Summer, it's forgotten now it's gone

Now you're just a memory, don't mean nothing more to me

A photo among others of my old friends and my lovers

And the winter is gone, a new summer's coming on

A new summer's coming on for you as well somewhere, Rosalita
