

Hanson, Being Me

So what am I supposed to do?
Here I am, I'm losing you
And this is more than I can take
And as you walk away, baby all that I can say
Is I'm sorry for being me

I won't have to look into your eyes anymore
It's alright, they don't look at me the same
With all that I've lost I give everything and more
If you want my love, speak

So what am I supposed to do
Here I am, I'm losing you
And this is more than I can take
And as you walk away, baby all that I can say
Is I'm sorry for being me
Yes I'm sorry for being me
