

Hanson, Lonely Boy

He's looking for Spring,
Looking for another lonely heart,
Trying to find the answer,
Trying to find the missing part.
It's Fall and the wind starts blowin'
It's cold inside his heart, he's all alone.
And his heart is callin'.

Chorus:

Is there no one who could love a lonely boy?
And at the end of the day,
There is no one to hold his hand.

Is there no one who could love a lonely boy?
And at the end of the day,
There is no one to understand. (End of chorus.)

He's looking for spring,
looking for another start.
Trying to find the switch,
And turn on the light in the dark.
He found the answer, that your love can prevail.
Through the darkest nights, coldest winters,
Through the fires of hell.

(Chorus...)

Is there no one...

Is there someone who could love a lonely boy?
Love me, hold me, is there no one?
Is there no one? Is there no one?

(Chorus twice)

Is there no one who could love a lonely boy?
Is there no one who could love a lonely boy?
Whose heart is gone.
Whose heart is gone.
Is there no one?
