Hardcore Superstar, Don't You Ever Leave Me (H

The nights are wearing me down And it's hard getting through the day 'Cos I need you right now And right now you're so faraway

I guess I should have known That I'd end up this way But I swear I'll come home And then nothing will drag me away

Don't you ever leave me baby Don't you ever leave me now Don't you ever leave me baby If you leave me you will kill me now

The lights are slowly going down On Lexington Avenue And me, I'm all alone feeling the tears falling down from my eyes

A subway train is passing by Driving into the Darkness I jump inside 'cos I ain't got nowhere to sleep tonight

Don't you ever leave me baby Don't you ever leave me now Don't you ever leave me baby If you leave me you will kill me now
