

Harem Scarem, Don't Give Your Heart Away

You and I had a dream to hold forever
Now it seems those days are gone
So if you think that we can pull our hearts together
Then please tell me before I go
You say you heard a voice in the night
And you swear it was your calling
Your words rang true over mine, I want you to know

Wherever you run to now, just remember don't give your heart away
Whoever you run to now, just remember don't give your heart away

Now I see, we have a need to be together
If you disagree, then I guess you're moving on
You say you heard a voice in the night
And you swear it was your calling
Your words rang true over mine, I want you to know
