

Harmful, Desert Of Mistakes

I just try not to cry I wanna leave this mind and shout it out Tastes like fear around here
Our destinations are the ones we've been before my dear So close but too far When the bow begins
We settle down and hesitate All this waste, I can't name So punish me now and let me get back to
When I fall in endless sleep? I hope you will be gone Just say you're ready - take your place
In a desert of mistakes... again
You give in I can't hardly believe these packed up beliefs There's no gain, let it drain When the sun
How do you keep that shine on
When I fall in endless sleep? I hope you will be gone Just say you're ready - take your place
In a desert of mistakes... again
Provide all of this misuse of our limited times When the big lie hits your eye Won't you go on to den
