

Hawksley Workman, Hey Hey Hey (My Little Beauties)

Hey hey hey, my little beauties
Come in and get warm
Hey hey hey, my little beauties
Forever is the storm

You are what God made you
Everyone can see
You don't have to change for no-one
Especially not me

Hey hey hey, my little beauties
There's tragedy enough
Hey hey hey, my little beauties
It's no reason to get tough

Everyone keeps falling
In and out of love
You're tired from all your wandering
You'd like to give it up

Oh, yes I know, yes I know
You hardly think of all these things at all
Yes I know, yes I know
You're just as simple, as simple as you seem

Hey hey hey, my little beauties
You're never where you were
Life is ugly, sad and dirty
And this cat sailed for shore

The one certainty of living
Is that you're gonna die
So why not stand in all of it
Instead of asking why?

Hey hey hey, my little beauties
You lovers and you fools
Don't get trapped in hopeless cages
'cause hopeless isn't true
