

Hawkwind, The Sea King

Sinking deeper beneath the waves
Mind now resigned, accepts his fate
Ancient alliance creeps into his thoughts
Unbid to him comes a rune once taught

Sea King has come to him
Sea King to save him

Unsure whether he's dreaming or dead
Seeing the face that his youth has bred
Slowly realising that to him has come
His ancestors' ally, friend only to some

Sea King has come to him
Sea King to save him

He sees that his life is safe
His foe Yrkoon has failed
The deed that was to finish him
Has come to no avail

Sea King has come to him
Sea King to save him

To his kingdom he is now bound
The sea around him is his shroud
Age old wisdom has set him free
So to realise his destiny

Sea King has come to him
Sea King to save him
