

Hay & Stone, Freedom Fighter

What are you afraid of?

What are you afraid of?

That's just a solitary freedom fighter

Imagine a world where people are free and everyone's equal

Well this ain't the place it's life after life another empty sequel

Dope ourselves in latest electronics for a shot of illusory world's relief

Piles of blocks and piles of colored toys but you beware of any true beliefs

What are you afraid of?

What are you afraid of?

That's just a solitary freedom fighter

Who still has faith in man

Who still has faith in

Overload of the smokes and dopes and women doesn't make you a rebel

Focusing to a principle instead is way more questionable

You waste your life and waste your pain in whatever you want to

I give it for music and for the message of Shri Nirmala Devi, of Shri

Mataji Nirmala Devi

Who still has faith in man

Who still has faith in

What are you afraid of?

What are you afraid of?

That's just a solitary freedom fighter

Stare into a dark empty well, they're growing, ever breeding

Stare into a dark empty well, growing ever breeding