

Heather Dale, True & Destined Prince

My kinsmen and my brother,
My shieldmate and my guide.
May my arm always defend you,
And your honor lift you high.

You are true and destined prince
And my sword is by your side
I will fight for you in glory
'Till I die.

When you sit upon the trillum throne
The banner I will fly.
The flower upon the scarlet
And our voices raised up high.

You are true and destined prince
And my sword is by your side
I will fight for you in glory
'Till I die.

When the time for bloody war has come,
Your right hand I will be.
You lead, my prince, I follow,
As we sweep to victory.

You are true and destined prince
And my sword is by your side
I will fight for you in glory
'Till I die.

We will keep the shieldwall fast, my king,
That day our foes will die.
As prince you'll rein victorious,
You will hear the battlecry.

You are true and destined prince
And my sword is by your side
I will fight for you in glory
'Till I die.

May you sing the deeds of glory,
Of your kinsmen gone away.
May they see your glowing pride,
If I should fall upon that day.

You are true and destined prince
And my sword is by your side
I will fight for you in glory
'Till I die.

For you are true and destined prince
And my sword is by your side
I will fight for you in glory
'Till I die.
