

Heathers, Forget Me Knots

They told me that
When I was younger
Lying leaves you blind
And don't leave anyone behind
And all those things
That make you stronger
Will have you lying on the floor
Think you can take it
Any more
So

It's all right not to feel ok.
It's all right not to feel ok.

They told me that when
I get older
That there'll be less time
To prepare and room for someone
To compare and now the ache
Is getting colder
And I can see it in your face
No wish to settle in this place

It's all right not to feel ok.
It's all right not to feel ok.
And I promise I'm here when you need me
Some people tell you that you just get up and grow up
Forget it, forgive what you're hearing
Some people just don't understand what it like to fall

So don't fall /4x

They told me that
When I was younger
Lying leaves you blind
And don't leave anyone behind
And don't lose sight of what's
To live for
Because there's truth
In what they say it's all right not to feel ok.

It's all right not to feel ok. /4x
