

Heatmiser, Everybody Has It

They stop at the light
She painted her lips white
Saying it's green and let's go
Well it happened at least I told the truth one time
Cos I don't need some line
Supposed to appease me
I'm so sick of that
When you echo back, and you're alright
Everybody has it
Everybody has it
Everybody has it
It's all right
Look around, take a look around you
Everybody has it
Everybody has it
Everybody has it
You're all right
He knows what he's got
Some must think(?)
Far from what he's not
When everyone's drinking
Which is most of the time
Red is the color

That she dreams about you
Every night and makes her cry
Everybody has it
Everybody has it
Everybody has it
So don't cry
Look around, take a look around you
Everybody has it
Everybody has it
Everybody has it
It's all right
Look around, take a look around you,
Everybody has it and everybody has it
And everybody has it
You're so bright
I looked around and I looked around
And oh you're so right, oh you're so right
Oh you're so right
You're so bright
Looked around and I looked around
And oh you're so right, oh you're so right
Oh you're so right
You're so bright