

Heaven Shall Burn, Deification

Symbols of addiction - It won't hit your life just over night.
It creeps and wait inside you - Longing for weak moments.
Reaching control step by step, but too strong my will, too sure my oath.
Inside my heart I feel are creatures of light where demons rule.
I'll carry colours of life, where wind just blows ashes away.
No need for false fortune - No mercy from me for your fallen heroes.
