

Heaven Shall Burn, Valhalla

High in the sky where eagles fly Morgoth the dark enters the throne

Open wide the gate, friend the king will come blow the horn and praise the highest Lord
who'll bring the dawn
he's the new god
in the palace of steel persuade the fate of everyone the chaos can begin let it in

So many centuries
so many Gods
we were the prisoners
of our own fantasy
but now we are marching against these Gods
I'm the wizard, I will change it all

Valhalla - Deliverance
Why've you ever forgotten me

Valhalla - Deliverance
Why've you ever forgotten me

Magic is in me
I'm the lost magic man never found what I was looking for now I found it but it's lost

The fortress burns
broken my heart
I leave this world
all Gods are gone

So many centuries
so many Gods
we were the prisoners
but then we had nothing who'll lead our life no, no, we can't live without Gods

Valhalla - Deliverance
