

Heavens To Betsy, Stay Away

I saw the way you looked that day
I saw the way you looked at me
I know the things you want from me
I know the things you take from me

My love, my life, my words, my heart
My innocence is torn apart
I'll never trust a word you say
You're just a bad memory

Stay away, stay away
Stay away, stay away

I feel the rain as it comes down
I feel like I am being drowned
You always sit and watch me die
A fuckin' fuckin' million times

I want to, want to, want to know
Does anything touch you anymore?
Or are you rotten inside?
I wish that you would just die

Stay away, stay away
Stay away, stay away

Do you think that this is for you?
Do you think that I'd do anything for you?
Do you think that I adore you?
Do you think that this is for you?

And I still breathe, I'm still alive
There's things that you can't take inside
My love, my life, my words, my heart
Are things that you can't take apart

Oh, I could do this a million times
I'm one of the bravest girls alive
I feel inside, I feel, I feel inside
I feel that you have already died

Stay away, stay away
Stay away, stay
