

Hellogoodbye, I Just Think She's The Best

Singins songs for lindsay paiala tell her how she caught my eye let her know how it's been so long since first impressions they seem so strong don't know what to say or do every feeling feels so new there's still hope that ive got a chance to get this girl to come and dance she probably thinks that im obsessed but i just think that she's the best probably thinks that i'm just lonely But i've got good friends and she's the only one who could make me feel this way when she's around i lose my brain the only thing that clouds the sun is she's already got someone what do i do now?

i've got to figure her out cause this means more than i ever ever thought it might so i'm setting up to see tonight ever and ever seems so bright writing lyrics in the park go to her house after dark tap on the window hope and pray that she'll like all the gifts i made if all we ever are is friends we both hope it never ends she can go on with the guy she's got a promise that i'll stay in my spot this all means more than i ever ever thought it might i'm setting up to see tonight forever and ever seems so bright

so i'm setting up to see tonight i never and ever thought it might but i'm setting up to see tonight
forever and ever seems so bright
forever and ever never, have to see tonight
forever and ever seems so bright
so i'm setting up to see tonight
