

Her Majesty, Nobody

we've been through the obvious just do what you're supposed to do no, they are not at all like us and I am not all like you oh this is your creation are you proud of what you have become?

I hear you are doing good but what matters in the long run?

hey, I just can't believe the things I hear and see from where I stand that all you'll ever feel
is nothing
and all we'll ever be
and what you see in me
is nothing, I'm a nobody there must be something wrong about you I know there's something about me too but there was something about us back then when we both knew now I don't know what to believe since all you do is causing friction now it's plain to see all your facts! all your fiction!

bear witness!

no I just can't believe no that all you'll ever feel and all we'll ever feel
