

Hippos, My Dear

Why do I always fall in love with the girl that is dropped by all the other guys?

This is my chance, much more indefinite I do not think that I will ever be content.

It's not my fault, I met a girl and in no time she's cold, and, surrounded, and confused.

Too many choices, too many voices telling her that she's the prettiest, she knows I couldn't choose.

Chorus

But I've been looking on the bright side

I've been looking on the bright side

maybe she will see my inside

then it will be so clear

I am the one for you, the one for you my dear.

put in my time, wrote her a letter thought it was clever so I sent it but still felt a bit unsure

This girl was something, made her a mix tape with all the love songs from the 80's she's a big fan of the cure

Chorus

I'm not trying to apply pressure I'm not trying to interview just wanna know if I measure up to the boy of your dreams and I hope it seems

Why do I always fall in love with the girl that is dropped by all the other guys?

Chorus