

Hit The Lights, Don't Wait

There were ocean waves, big city lights, lazy summer days, crazy sleepless nights.
Somewhere out on an open road, you drove yourself out of your mind Sometimes to do the things you love, you leave the ones you love behind.

You danced, you drank, you laughed, you cried,
you went to work and said goodbye
I lived, I learned, stayed up all night,
I'll see you when the time is right again

I've got old shoes in a brand new town
I wear'em like they're starin' let the tongues hang out.
I'm just too loose for the same old crowd
If I could only see your face before my souls wear down Somewhere out on an open road, you search until you look inside Sometimes you've got to see the world to find you what you left behind

You danced, you drank, you laughed, you cried,
you went to work and said goodbye
I lived, I learned, stayed up all night,
I'll see you when the time is right again

Wait for me, don't wait, don't wait for me you can't wait for the sun to rise, you'll never know until you try we make mistakes and learn in time, we all grow old, we live, we die we woke before the sun could rise, we packed our bags and waved goodbye we drove into a great sunset and lived a life with no regret I can't wait for the sun to rise, I'll never know until I try We make mistakes and learn through time, we all grow old, we live, we die, we live
