

Hollow Bones, Facade

Smiles are cries that purse eyes you're cold enough to fake it Determined to heal yourself, you've hidden all the pieces of your shame Hidden all the pieces of your shame

Doubtful yet believable you make this sound convincing Starting to believe you, I'm lying to the liar in my eyes lying to the liar in my eyes

Can you see behind this face? A word that's never spoken drown me with your tears of life, you've heard this all before and still you hide still you hide
still you hide
still you...

Words are catching up with me I'm testing tongues to speak Dripping from a morphine mind, it's cool babe... love won't ever stay never stay
never stay
never stay

Can you see behind this face? A word that's never spoken drown me with your tears of life, you've heard this all before and still we hide still we hide
still we hide
still we hide
