

Holly Dunn, Strangers Again

Strangers Again

recorded by Holly Dunn, written by Holly Dunn and Chris Waters

Strangers again
Just like before
Not even friends
After bein' much more

Strangers again
And will be forever
It hurts when love ends
As strangers again

I always thought a stranger was
Someone I'd never met
But the one who passed me by today
I know too well to forget

We're strangers again
Back where we started
But we'll never begin
Cause we're strangers again

I always thought a stranger was
Someone I'd never met
But the one who passed me by today
I know too well to forget

We're strangers again
Back where we started
But we'll never begin
Cause we're strangers again
It hurts when love ends
As strangers again
