

Holly Tree, Lonely And Totally Confused

everything started in 1993 when i met a girl that lived in a place near me she was so nice we began to stay together i thought we'd be happy forever but she took my money and smashed my life and it was not easy, no it was so hard despite all those things i loved her but i found i'm not the only one i don't know what to think just because the motherfucker is in love with my friends and also with me how would i feel with such stupid thing? she is so rude not feeling sorry for me even smashing me up i thought she loved me so rage will develop up and i will learn that i can never trust people nowadays they just think of power, money and their dirty own ways i never thought of her doing that now i'm so confused lonely and bored my life is sad