

Home Grown, More Than Friends

Thinkin' about her give me inspiration
But for what I'm not sure
Maybe it's not love, and just infatuation
Well I know I need something more
Than to be just friends
'Cause being friends in not enough
Girl can't you see, this distance between us is killing me
That's why I gotta know
"Why can't we be more than just friends?"
I lie awake at night frustrated and uptight
Wondering if she's with someone else
Constantly depressed
I'm hopelessly obsessed
I can't understand why she
Won't be more than just friends
'Cause being friends does not suffice
I need advice on what I'm doing wrong
I feel so down
That's why I gotta know
"Why can't we be more than just friends?"
And I know that you don't love me anymore
That's what you told me on the phone.
So I'll go and buy a 6-pack at the store
A drunken fool all alone
